DECREES

Art. 1:Number of research grants

A public selective procedure is announced, based on qualifications and interview, for the award of 1 "junior grant" for carrying out research activities (hereinafter referred to as research grant) at the University of Modena and Reggio Emilia.

This grant is aimed at individuals with a particular aptitude for scientific research demonstrated and documented by significant experience in the research field.

The Administration guarantees equality and equal opportunities between men and women for the allocation of this grant.

Art. 2

Venue, disciplinary area, title of research, general research objectives, tutor, interview schedule and subjects of qualifications

Location: Modena (ITALY)

LOCATION	Disciplines and/or disciplinary scientific fields to which the applicant's scientific qualifications must show specific relevance	TUTOR
Department of Law	GIUR-17/A (Philosophy of law)	Professor Gianluigi FIORIGLIO

The objectives and title of the research, the programme of the interview and the subjects of the qualifications for the selection procedure for the award of the research grants described above are as follows:

Title of research:

Legal profiles of the research project "Cyber Risks of Vehicle-to-Vehicle Communications - CRV2V", within the Research and Innovation program "Extended Partnerships", entitled "SEcurity and RIghts in the CyberSpace" - SERICS - SPOKE N. 8 - RISK MANAGEMENT AND GOVERNANCE, Research proposal: "Cyber Risks of Vehicle-to-Vehicle Communications - CRV2V", Cascading call relating to the program "SEcurity and RIghts In the CyberSpace (SERICS)", PE00000014 financed by the European Union - "Next Generation EU" on PNRR MUR funds - M4C2 - Investment 1.3 - CUP: J33C22002810001.

Research objectives:

CRV2V aims at developing novel methods and tools for evaluating consequences of cyber attacks to vehicle-to-vehicle (V2V) communications. As V2V connectivity technologies are already being deployed within vehicles and smart cities, guaranteeing cyber security in vehicular networks has become paramount. Technical standards already mandate for message authentication to prevent attackers from impersonating vehicles and infrastructure elements by deploying malicious wireless devices, but they cannot detect the abuse of inherently insecure invehicle networks to feed legit telecommunication units with fake data. An open challenge is related to understanding what are the real effects of attacks to V2V communications. The contributions of CRV2V include:

- identifying cyber attacks scenarios that may affect safety of future vehicles relying on connected Advanced Driver-Assistance Systems (ADAS)
- developing novel simulation tools and small-size physical demonstrators to evaluate the effects of cyber attacks in realistic scenarios
- propose novel risk assessment methodologies for V2V attacks and related mitigation strategies
- analysing legal issues of V2V attacks and finding solutions.

Interview schedule:

- ADAS and autonomous driving: legal and informatics profiles
- mapping and discussion of the crucial aspects in the perspective of legal informatica
- V2V communications, mapping and discussion of legal profiles
- Big Data and their impact on the automotive field
- privacy and security.

Art. 3

Duration, renewal and amount of the research grant

The grant has an initial duration of 12 months. It may be renewed for a period of not less than one year up to a maximum of six years. Exclusively for research projects whose expiry date does not permit the award of one-year grants, the grant may be awarded or renewed for a duration of less than one year, but in no case less than six months.

The total duration of the relationships established pursuant to the regulations in force, including any renewals, may in any case not exceed six years, excluding the period during which the grant was used to coincide with the PhD, up to the legal duration of the relevant programme.

Renewal of the grant is decided by the Board of the Department in accordance with the procedures set out in Article 9 of the University Regulations for the awarding of research grants.
